Should you be outbid by an existing maximum bid, the screen will immediately reflect that you've been outbid and prompt you to bid again

WEBSITE

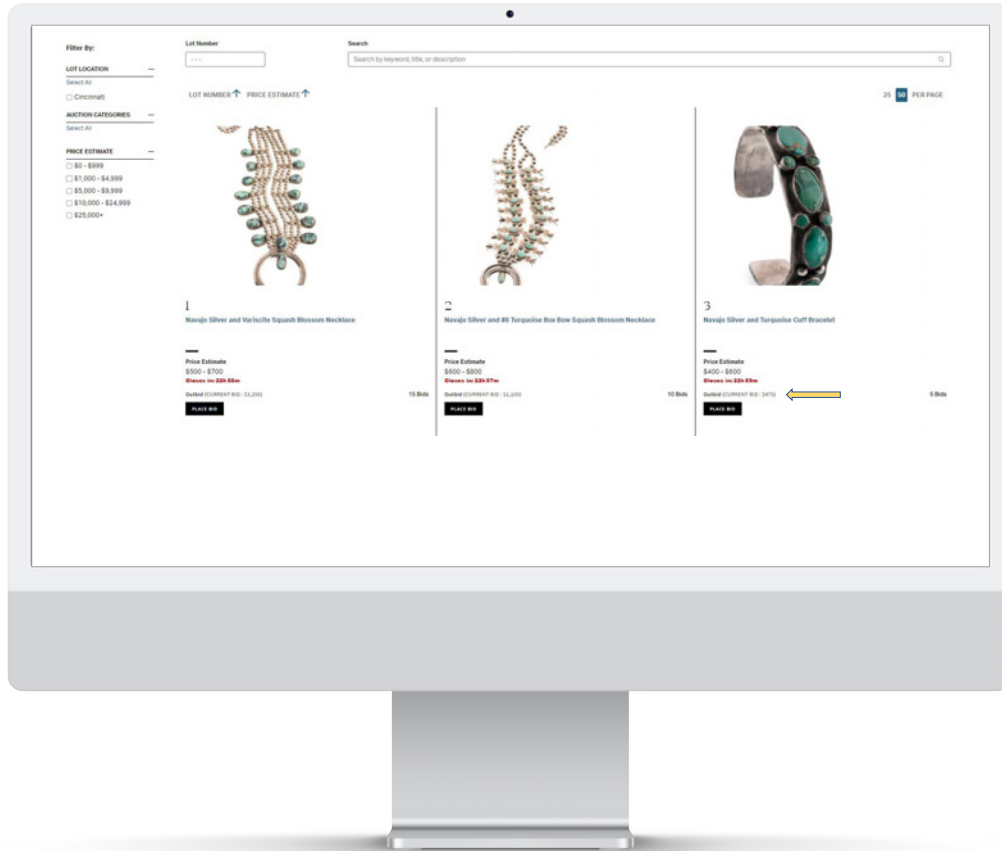

MOBILE

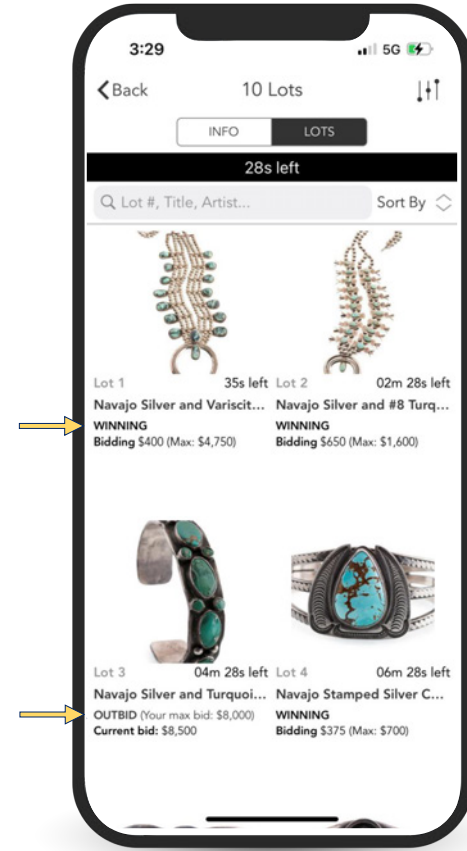

Your screen when logged in will always reflect the current bidding status on all lots you've bid on, indicating whether you are "Winning" or "Outbid". Should you navigate away from the auction and are outbid, you will receive an email notification prompting you to bid again

WEBSITE

As lots begin to close, should there be any bidding activity in the last minute, the countdown clock will reset for 5 more minutes until there is no additional bidding. This may cause lots to close out of order, as may be seen in the below example, where lots 5 and 6 have closed, but lot 4 remains open for bidding

When viewing through the app, you may sort by time
Once lots have begun to close, you may sort by "time left"
so that you may view only the lots that have yet to close and remain open for bidding

Clients can always review their placed bids and status at any point throughout the sale by going to the "My Bids" section of their account
